Terracotta Warriors

First we will visit Banpo museum, which is the first on-site museum for the prehistoric settlement in China. It will take you back 6000 years ago to see the lives of our ancestors. The excavated areas include the living areas, pottery workshops, and the cemetery. Next, we will visit the Terracotta Warriors, which is one of the most significant archaeological excavations of the 20th century. After that, we will visit a cave-dwelling folk-house near the museum, which used to be a very common residence in the rural area around Xi'an. For lunch, we will go to a restaurant to taste our local food.
